

Welcome to OCSEA

Welcome to your UNION

Welcome to the union!

Being a public employee can be both exciting and rewarding. As your union, we want to make sure that your work experience is as positive and satisfying as possible and that you are compensated fairly, treated with respect and are provided a safe and healthy work environment.

Public sector work isn't always easy, but it's some of the most important work you'll ever do. In some cases, people's lives depend on you. That's why public employees never quit and are some of the most dedicated employees you'll ever see.

But often your hard work will go unrecognized. Well, that's why we're here, not only to help you navigate public service and be successful in your career, but also to shine a light on that work and your commitment to Ohio's taxpayers. We want others to know that public workers do it best!

Ultimately, our goal is to help make a better life for you and your family. We've put together this packet of materials to highlight some of the benefits of being in the union and signing your membership card! From our union-negotiated health care, wages and leaves, we hope you'll take a moment to see why 9 out of every 10 OCSEA bargaining unit members sign a membership card.

We also urge you to become involved in your union. We can only be strong at the bargaining table and in our advocacy for public services and employees when all our members are engaged. Working together is what this union is all about!

After looking over this packet, if you would like more information about the union, contact your local union leader (a public employee, just like you) or staff representative, or call the OCSEA Member Resource Center at 1-888-OCSEA11. I also encourage you to visit our website at OCSEA.org.

In Solidarity,

What it means to be in a UNION

Being a part of a union affords you many things, big and small: from affordable health care, to discounts for Ohio's major theme parks and attractions, to college scholarships and more. Even more importantly, the union gives you a voice in the terms and conditions of your employment and a seat at the table when it comes to bargaining wages and contract provisions like sick leave, fair workplace rules and policies, employee training and high health and safety standards.

While still a unique and valued employee, you are also part of a larger group working to ensure that all employees are treated fairly and with respect, and that they are compensated fairly and receive other benefits that add to the quality of life, like affordable health care, dental, vision and a dignified retirement.

Historically, unions have helped raise wages and benefits not just for those INSIDE the union, but for others outside it as well. And it's even greater in the public sector, the most highly unionized sector in the country. As an example, OCSEA's wages, health care and educational benefits are often mirrored by management for exempt employees who don't have the benefit of being in a union. The union sets the bar for the rest of employees.

DID YOU KNOW?

PAYCHECKS

WAGES

The median earnings of union workers is $748 more than nonunion workers per month.

RETIREMENT

PENSIONS

Where unionization is higher, 92% of public sector workers have a pension, compared to only 15% in the private sector.

HEALTH CARE

COVERAGE

94% of union workers have access to employer-sponsored health care, compared to just 68% of nonunion workers.

Your co-worker union members bargain your employee-employer contract. But in their role as union leaders, they do so much more. They provide expertise for labor/management committees to work together to solve workplace problems and be proactive before major issues arise. They ensure your voice is at the table when it comes to workplace changes, health and safety issues and even scheduling. The great thing about unions is that its members lift each other up and truly root for the success of fellow union brothers and sisters. While being involved in your union is a lot of responsibility, there's great fulfillment in being a part of making sure everyone's voice is heard, that coworkers are treated fairly and that everyone is protected.

You will find the more you get involved in your union, the more unified the employees' voices will be and the better the union will be at representing everyone. See flier called "Get Involved" to see how you can make a difference.

Quick facts about Your UNION

OCSEA stands for the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association.
Full name: OCSEA/Local 11.

OCSEA is the largest State of Ohio employees' union with 27,000 state and local gov't members.

OCSEA has a diverse membership, from Correction Officers to Claims Processors to Highway Workers.

OCSEA is affiliated with AFSCME, the American Federation of State County and Municipal Employees, a national union with 1.4 million members.

OCSEA is part of the AFL-CIO federation with 60 unions and 12.5 million members.

Creating a better future... together

Together, OCSEA members build a better workplace and future. This is accomplished by members joining the union and keeping the union strong. Together, we have ensured:

■ Wage increases, step increases and longevity pay

■ Affordable health insurance, premium-free dental, vision and life insurance

■ Education benefits of $8,000 per year

■ Legal and union representation

■ Paid time off: vacation, sick leave, personal leave, disability, bereavement leave

■ Workplace safety

Contract WINS:

Before OCSEA members won the right to bargain in 1983, state employees were some of the lowest paid employees in the state. Since then, OCSEA's strength as a union has allowed tremendous gains in wages, health care and other benefits. Back then, employees could be fired for any reason, and sick leave and vacation were given out selectively. Your union has come a long way since then! Here are just some of the highlights of your union contract negotiated by your OCSEA bargaining team:

- 15/85 employee/employer premium split on health care
- Zero premium cost for vision and dental
- Highest wage increase in nearly 40 years
- Step increases in addition to general wage increases
- Longevity pay for employees who complete 5 years of state service
- Uniform allowance of $125 for all employees required to wear a uniform and even more for some agencies
- Two weeks of sick leave per year that can be carried over or converted to cash
- A vacation cash conversion of up to 40 hours for employees with at least 200 vacation hours
- 11 paid holidays and holiday pay for those who must work
- Disability benefits and Occupational Injury Leave (for those in 24/7 operations)
- Roll call pay of 30 minutes before shift begins for Correction Officers and DYS Youth Specialists.
- Tuition vouchers for higher education through the Union Education Trust, totaling $8,000 per year
- A fair dispute resolution process (grievance system)
- New protections for telework that require management to give written notice for denial or termination of remote work

Union Dues: Where do they go?

The union's budget comes entirely from member dues. Union dues are 1.25 percent of a member's base salary. The OCSEA budget is divided into five large categories, with the biggest providing direct services to members through OCSEA's Operating Budget. The balance goes for national representation and membership to the AFL-CIO and AFSCME as well as rebates to OCSEA's chapters, assemblies and district councils, also referred to as subordinate bodies.

The operations budget covers 59 percent of OCSEA's total budget. It is used for services such as contract negotiations, arbitrations and grievances, lobbying on issues that directly affect public employees, training leaders, legal services, education programs, conferences, publications, websites, rent, utilities and supplies.

Union Myths vs. Facts

Myth: I can't join as a probationary employee.

Fact: Not only can probationary employees join, most union benefits kick in immediately, including wage increases, health care and educational benefits.

Myth: Unions are no longer relevant since we already have an 8-hour workday and weekends.

Fact: Unions are more under attack than they ever were. That's because they're more relevant than ever. Besides negotiating contracts and ensuring fairness, they serve as a watchdog to management excesses and help employers ensure a skilled workforce with less turnover.

Myth: Unions are run by Union Bosses, not the members.

Fact: Elected OCSEA leaders (from the membership ranks) run our union at the local and state levels. Members negotiate and vote on OCSEA contracts, and an elected Board of Directors (from the rank and file) set the direction of the union.

What are your rights as a UNION MEMBER?

While it is worth the time to read through your contract to see all the rights and benefits you are granted under your labor contract, there are some basic rights you should know about above all else.

YOUR WEINGARTEN RIGHTS

First...

OCSEA's contract provides that if a person has a reasonable belief that a meeting with management will lead to discipline, that person has the right for a union steward to be present.

Should you be called into such an interview, you should immediately request that a steward be present.

Second...

A steward can meet with you in a pre-interview prior to the meeting to discuss what the issue is. The steward also has the right to ask the employer what the meeting is about.

A steward can help you prepare and ensure that you understand the supervisor's questions and that you answer the questions asked.

Third...

You must request a steward; management does not have to offer one to you. However, if the employer refuses to provide a steward after you request one, then the employer has committed a major procedural error.

Finally...

The only time a bargaining unit employee can refuse to answer questions in an investigatory interview is if criminal actions are involved. In those cases, the employee should also consult private counsel.

The language in OCSEA's contract with the state regarding these rights comes directly from the 1975 Weingarten decision by the U.S. Supreme Court. That decision provides for union representation at investigatory interviews that are believed to lead to discipline.

Who are my union contacts?

Your Chapter

- As a union member, you will be assigned to a local chapter.
- OCSEA has 133 chapters.
- Chapters hold union meetings, social events and community service activities that you can attend.

Your Team

- Each chapter has locally-elected union leaders. Your chapter president will likely reach out to you.
- A Union Steward is assigned to represent you in your workplace.
- An OCSEA Staff Representative is assigned to each member.
- Other OCSEA staff handle legislative, accounting, arbitration, legal, communications, member education and administrative work of the union.

Get INVOLVED!

YOU are an integral part of this union, and the more involved you become the stronger the union becomes. Here are some ways to get involved!

Chapter meetings

To get involved in your union, your best bet is attending a local chapter meeting. Every chapter holds meetings at least quarterly and sometimes more often. There, your local leadership will talk about what the union is working on at your local level as well as what issues have arisen statewide. Chapter meetings are a great first step for new members to get involved.

Get connected with the MRC

Not sure how to get in touch with your local union leadership? Want to attend a meeting or event and can't get in contact with the right people? Contact OCSEA's Member Resource Center (MRC). Your member customer service hub will put you in touch with the union reps in your workplace and local chapter elected officials. They will help get you on the road to union involvement and answer any questions you have. Contact the MRC at 1-888-OCSEA11 or MRC@ocsea.org.

OCSEA conferences & events

OCSEA holds many conferences and events throughout the year for skill building, networking and education. These events are great ways to learn more about the union's fights, get questions answered about recent contract interpretations and find out what's happening at the state and national level.

Training

OCSEA is dedicated to providing educational opportunities directly related to developing skills to grow strong union leaders. OCSEA educational classes are provided throughout the state by skilled OCSEA staff and activists as well as online and include basic and advanced stewards training, new contract training and other offerings.

Activism

Public employees have a special interest in what happens at the Ohio Statehouse and in Congress because their work is dependent on the laws crafted by each. That's why OCSEA has made it a priority to make the views of public employees known to policy-makers and elected officials who make these decisions. It's also important that members understand the importance of connecting their work with political decisions that get made about agency budgets, safe workplaces, contracts, pension systems and all sort of issues. There are all kinds of ways members can get involved in the political process, from attending a rally or town hall meeting, to participating in a lobbying activity or voting for elected officials that care about the work you do!

Voluntary political action

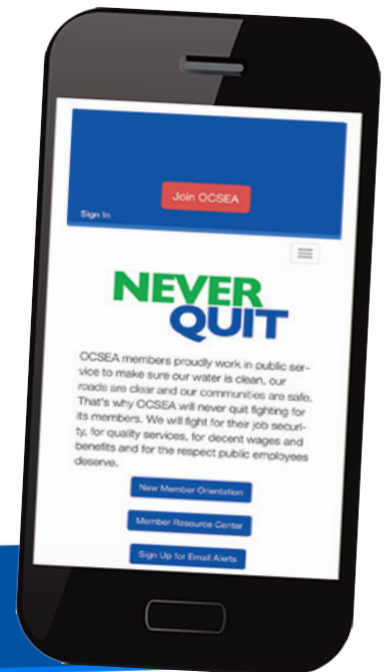

In addition to the many events and activities union members engages in to call attention to the concerns of public employees, members may also donate to OCSEA's political action committee: PEOPLE. PEOPLE stands for Public Employees Organized to Promote Legislative Equality and is a voluntary legislative and political action committee. PEOPLE contribution makes it possible for public workers to elect politicians committed to maintaining vital public services and who believe in the ability of public workers to collectively bargain. To find out how to contribute to PEOPLE, go to OCSEA.org/PEOPLE.

Get CONNECTED!

By becoming a member you get access to the union communications network. Stay informed and connected by signing up to receive email and text updates, create a member-only MyOCSEA account on OCSEA's webpage to get access to your benefits, news and more.

Health Care

Your health care is negotiated by an elected union Bargaining Team every three years in an effort to keep members' health care robust and affordable. In between contract negotiations, the Joint Health Care Committee (JHCC), made up of union members and management representatives, meets quarterly to monitor state employees' health care benefits.

The State of Ohio health care plan includes medical, wellness, behavioral health, prescriptions and flexible spending accounts. Some highlights of the plan include:

- Premium split of 85/15, with employer paying 85 percent and employee paying 15 percent of the premium
- Medical deductible - Single: $400 for in-network, Family: $800
 price varies for High Deductible Health Plans*
- Copays:
 - Doctor $30
($50 out-of-network)
 - Specialist $35
($55 out-of-network)
 - ER $150
 - Coverage for autism, diabetes, infertility, weight management & more.

Union Benefits Trust

The Union Benefits Trust offers dental, vision, life insurance benefits and the legal service plan to approximately 36,600 union-represented state employees, including OCSEA members like you.

OCSEA, the largest union for Ohio's state employees, established the Trust through collective bargaining in its 1992-1994 contract with the State of Ohio. The union believed it could administer these benefits more effectively and efficiently for union-represented state employees than management could, and the Trust today is proof of that belief.

Important facts about your dental, vision and life insurance benefits:

- The legal service plan, and supplemental life insurance are available to new state employee bargaining unit members upon hire. You have 90 days from the date of hire to purchase supplemental life and legal services.
- You must have one year of continuous state service to be eligible for dental and vision insurance.
- Once eligible, you must enroll in dental and vision within 31 days.
- Dental, vision and basic life are provided at no cost to you and your family.
- Coverage begins the 1st of the month following your one-year anniversary date.

Shaping Your Future

Union Education Trust

Shaping Your Future

Recognizing the importance of education and training to career goals and job success, OCSEA first bargained for the education benefits in the union contract for state bargaining unit employees back in 1997.

Since then, the Union Education Trust (UET) has only grown. Now, UET gives OCSEA bargaining unit members with the State of Ohio, Treasurer's Office, The Ohio Attorney General and Auditor's Office a total educational benefit of $8,000 per fiscal year from the first day of employment!

- The Career Improvement Program (CIP) offers up to $5,000 per fiscal year of financial assistance for college-credit courses and Vocational Training and Specialty Education.
- Computer Application Training (CAT) offers $1,000 per year of financial assistance for non-college credit computer training courses.
- Professional Enhancement Program (PE) offers $2,000 per year of financial assistance for non-college credit, short-term training opportunities.
